“Providing custom management solutions to the magazine industry since 1995 to a growing number of clients, we provide information and be more efficient.”

“Enter data once and use it in many processes are eliminated, increasing connectivity of the Magazine.”

What the Magazine Manager application can do for you

In dealing with today's markets, it is imperative that your company maintain accurate data on advertisers, rates, publications, contracts/insertion orders, production dockets, production scheduling, articles, subscribers and invoices

The power of this application is derived from the philosophy that you "enter data once and use it many times".

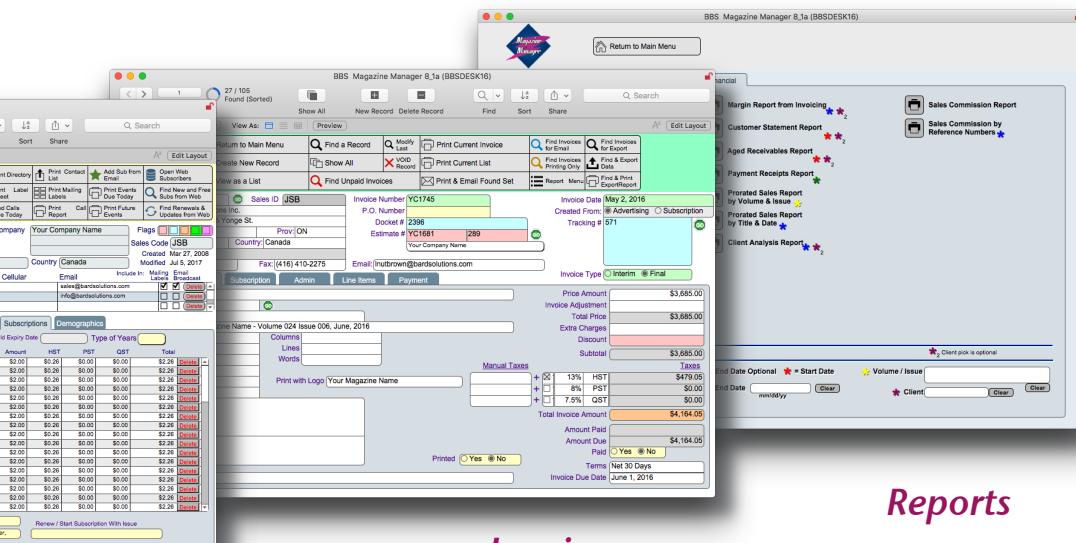

Several programming links are setup between all areas of the Magazine Manager. To increase efficiency and accuracy, simply select an item from a drop down menu and all the appropriate information is filled in for you automatically.
